JUAREZ MEETING TO CLOSE

SEASON OF 109 DAYS AT MEXICAN COURSE TO COME TO AN END THIS AFTERNOON.

Closing Days Marked by Liberal Patronage and Formful Racing—Big Shipment of Horses to Kentucky Tuesday.

El Paso, Tex., March 22.—The Jockey Club Juarez winter meeting of 1912-13 will come to a close with the running of tomorrow's card and a bumper crowd is expected to visit the course to enjoy the get-away day program. The patronage during the closing days of the meeting has felt the impetus of the gentlemen's convention in session here and has been of large proportions.

Today's racing was spirited and some close finishes occurred during the afternoon. Mike Moleet, which had never been known to stand a drive successfully before, did it today in the second race. In the sixth race Angellus nosed out the favorite, Frank G. Hogan.

Horsemen are now commencing to leave. J. F. Newman shipped his stable to Lexington today. Among the lot is Pan Zaretta which is entered in the Kentucky Oaks. On Monday a shipment will leave for Norfolk, Va. Tuesday will bring the departure of the Kentucky contingent and Wednesday a special will leave for Coeur d'Alene. It is estimated that it will take about fifteen cars to take the horses that are going to that point and before the week is over the track will be practically deserted. W. E. Cotton won two races today with horses at liberal odds.

Jockey George Molesworth, who has been under suspension since March 10, pending an investigation of his ride on Abound, was exonerated today by the board of stewards and will be seen in the saddle tomorrow, when he will have the mount on Meadow. Phil Hyams is anxious for Molesworth to go to Kentucky this summer to do his riding.

The stewards have not taken final action in the case against jockey Gross, who was suspended pending investigation at the same time that Molesworth was.

A MAN WHOSE MANAGERIAL ABILITY HAS BEEN SUCCESSFULLY DEMONSTRATED AT VARIOUS AMERICAN RACE TRACKS

MATT J. WINN.

FAVORED by opportunities and always equal to the mastery of any situation that might present itself, it has been given to Matt J. Winn in the course of a few years past to ascend to a position in connection with racing seldom ever attained. Mr. Winn was born at Louisville, June 20, 1861, but did not become identified with racing until 1900, when he took a clerical position under the secretary of the Louisville Jockey Club, of which William F. Schulte was then president and Charles F. Price secretary. It was not long until his executive ability became manifest to all with whom he came into official contact and he rapidly gained an intimate acquaintance with the controlling powers of the turf at large. In 1906 racing was carried on simultaneously over the two New Orleans tracks of the Crescent City Jockey Club and the City Park Jockey Club and, quite naturally, at ruinous expense to both. Some decidedly stubborn men on both sides were mixed up in this racing war, but even their pugnacity was affected by the losses incurred in the winter meeting of 1906-07. The upshot of some approaches under flags of truce was that Mr. Winn was called down from Louisville prior to the beginning of the meeting of 1907-08 to straighten out the calamitous complications. This he did in masterly fashion. He brought about an agreement for a division of dates, became himself general manager of the affairs of both tracks, with the entire approbation of both organizations, induced them to use the same staff of racing officials, except in the case of the starters, and conducted the racing profitably over both tracks. So far as the start was concerned, it was a case of A. B. Dude having already been engaged to start at the Crescent City track and Mars Cassidy at City Park, so these excellent officials were retained according to their respective contracts and had the doubtful privilege of laying off in idleness each two weeks alternately.

Mr. Winn's already considerable reputation was greatly enhanced by his success at New Orleans and his services were now urgently called for at his home. Here, for one reason and another, racing had not done well in 1907. Some sort of reorganization was in order and it was felt by President Grainger and others in authority that Winn was the man to do the reorganizing.

The New Orleans folks were loth to let him go, but at a meeting of the executive committee of the Crescent City and City Park jockey clubs, held January 31, 1908, he was released in accordance with his request. He was already manager of the Empire City racing at Yonkers, N. Y., having signed a contract for five years in 1907. As soon as details were worked out he now became manager of the fortunes of the New Louisville Jockey Club and has remained as such ever since 1908, to the profit and satisfaction of all concerned, the general racing public included. To his duties already assumed he presently added the responsibility of being manager of the new race track at Juarez and has conducted its affairs excellently from the beginning of racing there. The Louisville spring meeting of 1908 was his first year there in control as manager. It was also the meeting at which for the first time in a new order of things the mutuels and auctions were used in betting to the entire exclusion of bookmaking. Mr. Winn had been one of those actively instrumental in securing the enactment of the law creating the Kentucky State Racing Commission and in the measures leading to the substitution of the new betting method in place of the old. Hence it was now up to him to prove the wisdom and greater utility of the mutual system. There was much downright hostility to the new system and great doubt on the part of others inclined to be friendly. It was the patrons of racing who settled the matter triumphantly in his favor. As soon as they gained an insight into its workings they took to it as ducks to water and as soon as that spring meeting was over it was seen that the mutuels had come to stay. That is not long ago, yet since then Kentucky racing has been model racing of all sport and a scandal, while the racing bodies have thrived as never before in their history. The Louisiana people were intensely hostile at the start, but the logic of the new system changed all that and now they could not be driven back to the old ways. In bringing all this about he did not do all the work, but he did a true leader's share.

HAWTHORN TRAINING SATISFACTORILY.

Louisville, Ky., March 22.—It is reported that C. F. Buschmeyer, owner of Hawthorn, the ruling favorite for the forthcoming Kentucky Derby, has been considering the purchase of a two-year-old of the same quality as his crack son of Hastings and White Thorn. J. L. Holland's Gordon, a colt of supposedly good class that has raced at Charleston, is mentioned as one that Mr. Buschmeyer had in view. That Mr. Buschmeyer realized precisely what he was doing when he bought Hawthorn for $10,000 last season, has long since been verified. Hawthorn's indifferent performances on a limited number of occasions last season alienated the loyalty of many of the original supporters of the gelding. Mr. Buschmeyer's faith was unshaken, however, which he demonstrated when he paid such a liberal price for the son of Hastings. Before the end of the season Hawthorn repaid his owner. Today he is the choice of a vast majority when it comes to picking the probable winner of the Kentucky Derby. Hawthorn is training well at Churchill Downs. He has gained close to 300 pounds in weight since last fall and is a perfect specimen of the thoroughbred. His eagerness to run is characteristic and he shows at every chance that with age and development he has become speedier. If Hawthorn meets with no mishap it is a certainty that he will continue to rule the Derby favorite.

James MacManus will race a big string of horses in Kentucky this season under the direction of O. A. Bianchi. Mr. MacManus, in a letter written from Los Angeles, informs the Churchill Downs management that he will be here for the Kentucky Derby, May 10. He has instructed trainer Bianchi to bring his entire band to Churchill Downs.

Frank Farrar will come from Juarez to Churchill Downs with Beatrice Soule, Mimoroso, Jack Ellis and Mrs. Gamp. Farrar is associated with Seymour Veiller.

Judge W. H. Selley will arrive in Louisville from Juarez next Wednesday. Many others will come from the Mexican track at the same time. Consignments of racers from Juarez will begin to reach Churchill Downs and Douglas Park Thursday.

BRIGHTON BEACH FORECLOSURE ACTION.

New York, March 22.—With the appointment of Samuel Gumpertz as receiver and the filing of his bond for $100,000 in the office of the County Clerk, in the foreclosure action brought by William McBrien against the Brighton Beach Racing Association, the way has been cleared, it is declared by racing men, for horse racing the coming summer on the Brighton Beach track. William Engeman, it is intimated, will soon file the necessary petition for racing dates. The action is to foreclose a $50,000 mortgage made by the Brighton Beach Racing Association on April 8, 1911, and filed in the office of the County Clerk two days later. McBrien appears as the plaintiff, but it is said the real parties at interest are the Deforest Brothers and the Title Guarantee and Trust Company.

The mortgage covered not only the race track, but the land on which the Parkway baths are located.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The correct time for race 7571, at Juarez Friday, was 1:13.

During the trial of Jack Sheehan's bookmaking case at Toronto the past week, it was stated in court that his book had been a steady loser and that he was about at the end of his financial resources when Inspector McKinney made his descent on the place.

Superintendent James P. Ross has four horses at the Lexington track, including J. W. Carter, a six-year-old, and Royal Amber, Uncle Hart and Carpathia, all three-year-olds. Carpathia is a sister to Sonada and will go to the post in the Oaks races at Lexington and Louisville.

The Brookdale Stable of Barrie has lost the fine mare, Bella Hamburg, which died a day or two ago of pneumonia. A brother to Kel d'Or arrived this morning at Barrie, where the Golden Dawn mare Drowsy is now owned. This is a colt by Kelston, Kel d'Or will be remembered as the Saskatchewan-bred colt that Raymond Dale sent over to run in the Epsom Derby two years ago.

James A. McCormick, closely identified with Addison Cammack in Wall Street operations a generation ago and an owner of race horses, died Wednesday at New York. He was in his eightieth year. To distinguish him from the trainer of the same name, who died in Germany last year, Mr. McCormick was known to horsemen as "Shoes to Plates" because of his favorite way of designating one horse's superiority over another.

Sam Most's contention at Charleston in reply to H. Bagley's claim that he is in bad standing on account of a New Orleans ruling seems correct. The records show that on February 6, 1907, the executive committee of the City Park Jockey Club, acting on the recommendation of Judge Francis Trevelyan, re-instated Most, who had been ruled off during the previous winter for an alleged attempt to induce jockey B. Smith to place one of his mounts.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

D. M., Chicago. Sysonby was beaten but once. This was when he ran third to Artful and Tradition in the Futurity of 1904.

C. E. B., Seattle, Wash. All bets on Rogon lost. In racing a horse is in the starter's control as soon as it leaves the paddock on its way to the post.

H. M. R., Chicago. A place parlay on the F. E. Brown entry and Font, March 20, won. An entry is one or more horses and Volthorpe was the F. E. Brown entry.

M. P. N., Port Huron, Mich. A parlay to show on three horses, two of which ran third, while the other ran unplaced, but was "out" to show, was a winner to be paid without question.

L. L. R., Detroit, Mich. If the parlay on Gasket, Ocean Queen, Bulgar, Berkeley and Shackleton, March 20, was to win straight, it lost. If it was a parlay to show, it won. The 50 to 1 limit did not affect the matter nor did the order in which the names were written.

GROSVENOR RACING WELL

J. W. PANGLE'S THREE-YEAR-OLD WINS BATTERY PARK SELLING STAKES.

Governor Blease Again Favors the Sport at Palmetto Park with His Presence—All the Favorites Are Beaten.

Charleston, S. C., March 22.—The Battery Park Selling Stakes, value $1,000, six furlongs, was won by J. W. Pangle's Grosvenor, the extreme outsider in the betting, after a strenuous struggle with Tarts. The favorite, Sherwood, was third and his disappointing performance was in the main due to incompetent handling he received from the inexperienced Scharf. After the finish Grosvenor was bid up from his entered price of $1,200 to $1,500 by J. W. Hedrick, and was bought in.

The return of fine weather resulted in an improved attendance. Among the spectators were many state political luminaries, including Gov. Cole L. Blease. The sport was interesting, two of the finishes being of the hair line variety with the result in doubt until the official placing was displayed. Muddy going made it difficult for the public to pick the winners, all six first choices being bowled over. The worst disappointment came in the fourth race, which served in the nature of a Derby trial. The contenders were at best a poor lot, with Chilton King most highly considered. He flattered his backers for six furlongs, but weakened in the stretch and Good Day, lightly considered, won as his rider pleased. Counterpart landed in second place and Chilton King just managed to beat Early Light for third money. John E. Madden's Bernadotte would have been formidable with a good ride and looms up promisingly for next Saturday's big prize. Early Light probably will also have to be reckoned with.

Fairy Godmother was the beaten choice in the opener, Gagnant scoring by a nose. Harwood, a $40 yearling, beat a good band of juveniles in impressive fashion. In the fifth Viley was considered best, but after a good start, he was the runner-up and the Madden pair, Single and Walters, followed. E. B. Parsons, the grandstand messenger, who owns Harwood, gamely refused an offer of $1,500 for the colt after his winning performance this afternoon. James Milton, whom it was announced would do the starting at Merilboro, will have to settle the proper because of pressing private business at Jacksonville that will require his attention at the close of the meeting here. It is likely that William Murray will be chosen by the Merilboro people to preside at the barrier.

After Grosvenor's victory in the Battery Park Selling Stakes, his running qualities for the remainder of the racing here and at Norfolk were leased by J. W. Pangle to E. J. Pons.

Sam Louis sold Elma to W. C. Capps, and she will be raced on the Canadian harness track. Sam Louis also bought from J. M. Gode the two-year-olds Pat Rutledge and Ida Cook and the old campaigner Toison d'Or.

Joseph McLennan departed for Norfolk tonight to assume his duties as racing secretary of the Jamestown Jockey Club. Luke A. Cassidy, who has been acting as publicity man for the Charleston Fair and Racing Association, will fill the position of clerk of the scales at Palmetto Park during the rest of the meeting.

W. W. Lyles was operated on for gall stones at the Riverside Hospital this afternoon and is reported to have come out of the operation in good shape. His condition tonight is favorable.

The stables of E. McBride, J. F. Sweeney and Dr. Ashe left for Norfolk this morning. In the same train were shipped J. G. Starnes's two-year-old by Yankee and another youngster by Electioneer consigned to James Fitzsimmons.

The following is a summary of a sale of horses in training held in the paddock previous to the races this afternoon: Eaton, L. Most, $200; Fances, C. Reed, $300; Pretend, J. W. Hedrick, $210; Coeur d'Alene, L. Most, $325; Con Curran, C. H. Geiger, $110.

MATERIAL FOR MARLBORO RACING.

Baltimore, Md., March 22.—Since the announcement of the dates for the meeting of the Southern Maryland Fair and Agricultural Association at Marlboro, April 2 to 12, applications have been pouring in to the secretary and there will be several hundred horses to draw from for the ten days' meeting. Some of the applicants for stable room will be accommodated at Benning. A special train will be run every morning during the Marlboro session to carry horses from the Washington course to Marlboro. There is stabling room at the Marlboro course for 200 horses and all the stalls will be filled. The first shipment to the track comprised the horses of W. C. Weant, from Pimlico. In the lot were Otis, Steelcliff, Galinda, Ramon Corolla. The stable of John Farrell, including Henotic, has also arrived.

Abie Garson wired from New York that he would ship Tonata and four others to the track.

NEWSY ITEMS FROM LEXINGTON.

Lexington, Ky., March 22.—H. H. Stanhope's good mare Baltimore Belle (dam of Liberty Hall) foaled a brown colt by Waterboy during the week, but the foal died. The mare will be mated with Fair Play. R. T. Wilson's Nightfall foaled a bay colt by Ormondale at Kirklevington Farm and will be mated with Olambala. T. C. McDowell's King's Daughter and her first foal, a brown filly by Ogden, had a narrow escape from destruction Friday morning when, during a storm, the roof was blown off the immense brick barn at Ashland Farm and the back wall was razed. They were penned in and several hours were required to dig them out. Fancywood has a black colt by Waterboy.

Wesley Fields, aged seventy-six, who was a well-known turfman and trainer, died at his home in this city this morning. Three years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and since then had been practically an invalid.

ENCOURAGING, IF TRUE.

New York, March 22.—Great satisfaction is being expressed among the racing fraternity over the report circulated here today that Andrew Miller, secretary of the Saratoga Association for the Improvement of the Breed of Horses and also a steward of the Jockey Club, had decided to invest in a string of horses and return to racing as an owner. The news is in line with recent reports that racing is to be revived in this state this year.

Mr. Miller was one of the owners of the famous Newcastle Stable. In 1907, 1908 and 1909 the stable was successfully campaigned over the tracks of this state, but when racing was suspended here the entire string of horses was sold at auction. Mr. Miller was one of the syndicate that brought the French stallion Adam to this country at great expense.

FOALS ARRIVING IN QUEBEC.

Montreal, Que., March 22.—The manager of the Charlevoix Stable, which is the racing partnership of Sir Rodolphe Forget and Mr. Charles Donohue, of this city, reports that the first foal of the season arrived at the St. Iremie farm on February 28. The youngster is a handsome bay filly by the Canadian Breeding Bureau stallion Blue Book, dam Eva Madison. Blue Book is by the Hanover stallion Hand-spring.

All the horses at the farm are in charge of trainer Walsh, who reports that they have wintered well and are ready to go into active training. Two two-year-olds, Siroit Mo, by Sea Horse II—Eva Madison, and Siroit An But by Sea Horse II—Valorous, will be prepared for the Nursery Stakes at Blue Bonnets. The stable's candidate for the Quebec King's Plate is a three-year-old filly, Bacchante, by Sea Horse II. Three fine-looking yearlings are being broken at present; one is by the Bureau stallion Masterman, which won the American thoroughbred championship in New York a few years ago. The dam of this one is the Meddler mare Imperatrice. Another yearling is by Blue Book. He is a magnificent colt and already stands over fifteen hands high. His dam is Eva Madison and he has been named Corf Volante. The third yearling is a son of Blue Book, out of Valorous. All these youngsters are Province-bred.

Sir Rodolphe Forget reports that the Bureau has been an entire success in the Saguenay district and that breeders are getting high prices for the colts by Bureau stallions out of farm mares.

"I have a couple of half-bred two-year-olds," said Sir Rodolphe, yesterday, "and they are as likely a pair as a man could wish to see. I would not sell the two of them, as they stand now, for $800."

NEW FOREIGN STUD BOOK RULES.

Lexington, Ky., March 22.—An eminent authority on racing who prefers that his identity be not disclosed, had the following to say this week on the subject of the ban against the admission of American horses to the English and French Stud Books:

"The apparent inconsistency of the Messrs. Weatherly in now refusing to admit to the English Stud Book animals whose pedigrees practically tally with others previously admitted, is explained, I think, by the fact that the 'notice' published in Volume XIX, was withdrawn in Volume XXI. In other words, too many American horses were coming into the English Stud Book, so its publishers put up the bars which the Volume XIX 'notice' had practically been French rule as the same as the English, except that—with some animals in their own Stud Book not tracing to an English tap-root the French have required complete and unbroken pedigrees tracing at all points to the English or French Stud Books."

GOSSIP FROM JUAREZ TRACK.

An Easterner Seeks to Buy McLemore Stable—Sea Cliff's Good Showing—The Weir Juveniles.

El Paso, Texas, March 22.—Wade McLemore has been asked by an eastern turfman, whose identity has not yet been made public, to set a price on his racing stable, consisting principally of the useful three-year-old filly Truly and the two-year-olds Paw, George, Bruce, Kick and Chris, and also the contract he holds on the services of jockey Groth. He and his trainer T. B. Mumford now have the matter under consideration and will announce their decision within the next few days. The contract Mr. McLemore holds on Groth will expire on January 25, 1914. In case the deal goes through, the Texas turfman will only be out of racing for this season, as he has a crop of yearlings on his ranch and these will be handled by Mumford when they are two-year-olds next season. Truly, the star of the stable now that her great sister Meadow has gone back in form, has won many races at the Juarez track this season and is regarded as the best of the three-year-old fillies that have raced here this winter, barring the flying Paa Zareta. Paw is the string's only winning two-year-old so far and, while undoubtedly a speedy gelding, he has a head on the neck that sets him apart from good. The deal proposed only covers the younger horses. Meadow and Steel not being in the trade, Mr. McLemore has a foal he is especially proud of this season, it being a sister to Meadow and Truly, by Leonid—Dolly Hayman. Hay has mated the latter mare back to Leonid, but Belle Rankin, the dam of Steel and Lady Rankin, has been sent to be mated with Meelick. The daughter of Handball is expected to foal within the next few days either a colt or a filly by Leonid.

If the deal for Mr. McLemore's young horses goes through, Groth will be seen in the saddle in Kentucky this season, as it is stated that the turfman who is after this Texas stable intends to race at Louisville and Latonia this spring and summer. Groth has been riding here as light as 100 pounds. A. C. McCafferty has been racing Suffragist, Dominica, Lady Young, Frazzle and other performers at Juarez, will campaign his stable in Kentucky this spring and summer. This is the first time in about twenty years that this veteran Texas horseman has planned to race the Kentucky tracks, and while he races Dominica and Suffragist as good enough to win at Louisville and Latonia, he is really going once more to Kentucky to pick up a good horse or two to add to his string to race at Juarez next winter. Dominica, now in the McCafferty stable, was bred by J. J. McCafferty at Bashford Manor Stud. She will go back to her native heath with a creditable racing record, having won no less than nine races last season as a five-year-old. Suffragist, right now, is as good as he ever was and appears able to run in any sort of a going. If he finds Kentucky in as good form as he is at Juarez this winter, this son of Viceroy will be a useful horse in selling races of a mile and less. A. C. McCafferty is a brother to J. J. McCafferty and C. C. McCafferty, both of whom have been prominent on the Kentucky turf.

Under the skilful handling of Henry McDaniel, the seven-year-old gelding Sea Cliff has regained his good racing form. During the present Juarez meeting this son of Clifford has won five races. In one of these he ran a mile in 1:28, which was his fastest time of the meeting for that distance. Sea Cliff has now a racing record of twenty-five victories. As a two-year-old in 1908 he won the Albany Stakes, Adirondack Handicap and four other races. He did not race at all in this country as a three-year-old. In England, where he won twice, as a four-year-old in 1910 he won four races, while as a five-year-old he won only twice. Last season he won eight times as a six-year-old and was in the money in fifteen other starts. The son of Sea Cliff has now won $1,485 in stakes and purses during his career to date in this country. Sea Cliff will not race in Kentucky the coming spring, as his owner and trainer, Henry McDaniel, will again ship his stable to the Coeur d'Alene track in Idaho, Delaney, a stable companion of Sea Cliff, rounded up in form and there are several promising two-year-olds in the McDaniel barn that may race better on the circular track in Idaho than out of the chute at Juarez. Mr. McDaniel will visit Kentucky in the fall and pick up some of the next winter's crop. He knows that his horses are not good enough to race with success at Louisville and Latonia this season and I have decided to go where there is a chance to get the money.

The friends of John Offutt will be pleased to learn that that Kentucky farmer is now a prosperous farmer in Oklahoma. Since settling in that state he has married and has an interesting family. Mr. Offutt was for years manager of the Meadowthorpe Stud in Kentucky, which was owned by his late brother-in-law, Col. J. E. Pepper, and while still in charge of the place he started the King's Corrier, King Barleycorn, Kentucky Colonel, Whiskey King, King Venus and Par Excellence were foaled there. Mr. Offutt raced Roxane, which, after running some sensational races, was sold at auction to the late Stephen Sanford of Amsterdam, N. Y., for $10,000. From the good word with Roxane and realized from her sale, Mr. Offutt purchased the farm he now owns in Oklahoma and he has named the place after the famous daughter of Peribaze. It is interesting to horsemen to note that Roxane is bred on her dam's side much like the great granddam of the Latonia Derby winner of 1912.

W. E. Applegate will not race Round the World until the spring meeting at Churchill Downs, and had intended to run the Kentucky Derby, or two, during the closing days of the Jockey Club Juarez meeting, but when the weights came out for the Dos Republicas Handicap, the last stake feature of the meeting, the assignment was more than her owner thought the daughter of H. Buckner, was ready to take up on her. She will race Louisville ready to race this spring in the best of company and ready for a long and severe campaign. It may be expected that she will race in events like the Clark Handicap at Churchill Downs, and for $10,000, Kentucky Handicap at Douglas Park. She still possesses dazzling speed.

F. D. Weir has won with five two-year-olds at the Jockey Club Juarez course this season, a total of eight races. His juvenile winners include Old Rosebud, imberbe as yet, Aunt Mamie, Edith W., Ida Lavinia and Della Mack. Three of the collection, Old Rosebud, Aunt Mamie and Edith W., are by Uncle, while Ida Lavinia is a daughter of Cesarion and Della Mack is by The Commoner. The latter, which is the latest in the line to graduate from mud to the track, was sold for $150 a yearling at public auction and Ida Lavinia was purchased also at auction for $250. The three youngsters by Uncle were all purchased by H. C. Applegate. Mr. Weir's racing partner, at private sale, the trio being bred at John E. Madden's Harbinger Plant, where Uncle is riding during his stay in Kentucky. The Weir two-year-olds will no doubt cut some figure at Lexington and Louisville this spring. Old Rosebud looks as if he may be a high-class youngster. So far he has met nothing that could even test his real racing ability. All the Weir youngsters are good, fast actors and quick breakers from the barrier and in this respect they will have something on the two-year-olds in the early races in Kentucky this spring, especially those which have done no winter racing and have never faced the barrier as yet. As a veteran trainer appears to have a promising season before him and it may be that Old Rosebud's performances will ultimately draw as much attention to his stable as in the days when the great Rosebud was a member of his establishment.

Jockey C. Borel, who has been absent from the saddle at Juarez for more than a fortnight, owing to an attack of rheumatism, means to rest up for a spell in California before going to Kentucky to ride for W. E. Applegate, who holds first call on his services. Borel thinks that with a few weeks rest he will be the best rider in training condition and will go to Lexington in plenty of time for the opening of the Kentucky racing season on April 26. He thinks he will be able to ride at lighter weight in Kentucky than at Juarez this season, where he has had difficulty in carrying his weight. As his stable has no Derby candidate this season, it is likely Borel will have the mount on El Palomar, in the event that trainer John Lowe decides to start that speedy son of Ostler Joe in the big race, which is probable, as El Palomar is owned by C. W. Clark, an avowed fan to see his colors carried in the Derby on May 10.
